As the volume of yard clippings and leaves blocking sewers continues to increase, the council is looking at a law designed to keep residents working with town crews to keep debris off curbs.

Public Works Director John Bach said although some residents keep the sewer grates cleared,

are too many who do not.

“Although our guys do all they can to clear grass and leaves from the sewers, there is no way we can keep every sewer grate in town cleared, especially when leaves are falling,” Bach said.

“Not only does debris prevent rain from flowing

into the storm sewers, a good deal of the organic material gets into the sewer, itself, which is exactly what we don’t want it to do.

“All we are asking is that residents stop blowing their grass clippings and leaves in the street,”

Bach said. “We’ll take it from there.”

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The town will host two public hearings for

Highland residents to weigh in on the 2017 spending plan. The hearings will preempt the council’s regularly scheduled meetings.

2017 SPENDING PLAN

If you’ve been wondering about the town’s finances, budget hearings in October will provide ample opportunity to get your questions answered about the 2017 spending plan.
It’s a balancing act to project revenues while finding sufficient funds to fix streets and sewers and pay employees who serve and protect – which includes police officers and firefighters
as well as utility clerks and public works employees.

Clerk-Treasurer Michael Griffin can plan for the expected, but also has to have contingencies in place to handle the unknowns.

Farmer’s Almanac said to plan for a bitterly cold and snowier-than-normal winter. That means reserving additional funds for road salt above-and-beyond what was stashed from last winter while holding some funds in abeyance to pay overtime
salaries for the hard-working drivers who clear
our streets while most of the town sleeps.

For Griffin, it’s a bit of art, as well as craft.

“I look to the revenues I know we can rely on while looking for stability in other funding sources that are less predictable,” he said. “Also,
a factor on the revenue side of the balance sheet
is the loss of property taxes we incur because of the state’s circuit-breaker tax credit.”

FACADE IMPROVEMENTS BOLSTER BEAUTIFICATION
The Redevelopment Commission is celebrating it’s 11th – and soon to be 12th – facade improvements completed over the last five years. Highland Glass, 8020 Kennedy, finished its storefront upgrade this summer, while Corporate Thread, 2929 Highway, is just beginning.

Redevelopment Director Cecile Petro said the facade grant program has worked exceedingly well, breathing new life into buildings inching closer to the century mark.

“The grant program has maintained the town’s design standards by using natural materials to upgrade the facades, while maintaining the mid-century modern look and feel of the downtown,” Petro said.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM
If you own a commercial building downtown or along Kennedy and would like to take advantage of the facade improvement program, call Cecile Petro at (219) 972-7598 or email cpetro@highland.in.gov.

The result has been an overall aesthetic upgrade to the downtown and increasingly to north Kennedy, as well. Of the $529,746 spent so far to beautify building facades, Petro said the town contributed $147,052 in grants to the projects while property owners spent $382,694.

“The improvements add to the beautification and assessed value of downtown while increasing the value to the owner,” Petro said.

FIREFIGHTERS RAISE MORE THAN $3,500 ...

SHOP WITH A FIREFIGHTER: The holidays are going to be brighter for Highland children thanks to the Highland Fireman’s Association’s first-ever golf outing. The event raised more than $3,500 – triple the amount firefighters have been able to collect in years past for the “Shop with a Firefighter” program. Fire Chief Bill Timmer said the group outdid itself in its inaugural golf fund-raiser and thanked firefighters Doug Turich, Bryan Rhoten and Matt Pepelea for making the event one for the record books. Thanks also to the staff at Wicker Memorial Park and North Township Trustee Frank Arvan for hosting the event as well as local business owners who supported the fund-raiser. “More children than ever before will get to shop with a firefighter in December and we couldn’t be happier,” INFO: Visit highland.in.gov/HighlandFireDepartment for a complete list of sponsors. DONATIONS: If you would like to make a donation to the “Shop with a Firefighter” campaign, please email Firefighter Doug Turich at doug.turich@gmail.com. [photo provided]

ORDINANCE PROHIBITS PARKING NEAR MAILBOXES
The Highland Town Council hopes an issue with on-street parking will be resolved by a new town law preventing parking near – or in front of – motor-route mailboxes.

Deputy Cdr. John Banasiak, a member of the town’s Traffic Safety Commission, said the issue came to light when long-term guests of residents living at Hampton in Highland began parking on residential streets in the Meadows neighborhood, preventing mail delivery.

The law bans parking within 7,5 feet of a street-side mailbox between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Federal holidays are exempt. The same rules also apply for parking near any U.S. street-corner mailboxes that dot the landscape around town.

The ban does not apply when parking to:
✓ avoid a conflict with other traffic
✓ comply with police or traffic-control device
✓ momentarily drop off a passenger

“This should solve the problem,” Banasiak said. “The new rules affect parking on about 25 percent of neighborhood streets.”

The Highland Council of Community Events has rolled the state’s bicentennial celebration and the magic of autumn into one unique festival that will debut mid-October.

Check full of entertainment, activities for young and old, along with delectable foods that match the season, this year’s festival will be a first for Highland.

The three-day event coincides with the season that features leaves that crunch underfoot, days that are pleasantly warm and evenings that tend to be crisp and cool.

Since the town’s history was formed around farming — planting in the spring and tending to crops during hot, languid summers — HCCE President John Breslin said it is fitting that the town celebrate autumn, when farmers like the Van Tils and Scheeringas realized the fruits of their labors.

“We wanted to create an event that would appeal to everyone — whether it’s the weather, the pumpkins or the heartier foods of our collective childhoods,” he said. “Autumn is a really special time in Highland.”
